As I am writing this, we have just had a really lovely service at Brantingham Church for the recommissioning of the church after it's restoration works, and saw lots of people attend for healing prayers. The celebration of 'All the Saints' who went before us, was also a joyful experience. It's easy to forget all those who have supported and maintained the faith in the past in our parishes and I hope as a benefice we can continue to uphold the traditions of worship here, as well as speaking about God in a way that is fresh and modern for the future. As well as an exceptional band concert last weekend in Elloughton, we have also been able to support local children by giving a book called 'Your Move' to everyone in Year 6 moving to high school. I am enormously grateful to everyone who is part of our church communities in so many different ways. It's a real team effort here.

Revitalise

The JPCC will be meeting over the summer to review progress with Archdeacon Andy, and we hope that the Revitalise programme can continue through external Diocesan funding for my role as Priest here. Please pray these discussions go well.

If you haven't yet had chance to review your giving or try out the Parish Giving Scheme, please do pick up a leaflet in church. Sadly the cost of living is impacting on us as a parish like all other organisations and any additional support you can offer would be incredibly welcome. The costs of a priest outweigh the income we currently give.

Church Hall

We are excited to say that WiFi has been installed in the church hall, which makes it an excellent venue for meetings and small conferences as well as our normal party bookings. If you know anyone who might like to hire the hall in this way please email Joanne at stmaryshallelloughton@gmail.com

We also have a new noticeboard which was funded by the Atkinson Trust. This is being installed in August and will help publicise hall events.

Band Concert

Thank you to everyone who came and supported The City of Hull Brass Band Concert on the 6th July. Despite the change of venue from Peter's Garden to St. Mary's Church, due to the weather, we had a good turn out. Refreshments were served in the Hall where there was a good atmosphere and the concert was thoroughly enjoyed by all those there. In total we raised £788 for Church Funds.
